

Dear Campaign Life Friends, Oct 1, 24

Thank you for your indefatigable and invigorating presence in court. Impressive! I grow stronger by your glad some presence in the benches. You as guardians of life bring to court a sense of respect for life.

The court is in session and the evil triumvirate regime rules - Kathleen Winn's contrived "provincial law, the crown's self declared authority" this beast has one head" and that serpent head bows its head to the death mill on Hillsdale Ave making it a justice-free zone, sanctified of any recognition of rights for unborn humanity.

The courts disdain for life is palpable. The crown's flagrant and pitiless tone spoke to any that would articulate otherwise - dissent Verbatim!

The charge interfering with the enjoyment of property. I've got too close to their midway of horrors. The death mill suborns the police whose code of practice is appeasement to the province's legalcraft playbook.

The testimony by the police at trial is bereft of any mention of small prisoners dragged to their execution for the crime of living. The police abandon those they refuse to protect - the notion of humanity lost on them.

at the prison I'd refused to receive the invidious police disclosures from the official messenger saying "I don't read fiction." I later added "that enough baby blood was shed while the police were there" geriving and protecting "the clandestine killing shop that they could have written their reports in blood."

As Elie Wiesel, speaker of the findings of the Nuremberg trials

"there were those that did the crimes and those who did nothing"

In the midst of Canada's contemporary amnesia, our recent history informs us what delayed action accomplishes. Canada is hemorrhaging from a self-inflicted wound and is a splash in the blood of millions. The echo continues on in the indictment of those millions

"Written in my blood"

We bring their plaintive cry front and center to the court.

We refuse to be shackled to the Government's death creep policies or be made accomplices to tyranny against tiny humans. We reject this intrusion of law thrust upon us.

They say "cease and desist."

We say persist and carry on!
A world where evil is not challenged is moribund.

Open defiance is better than morose compliance. Wherever our country is turned into a crucible of death.

Our fight is with those who choose to forget. - it brooks no neutrality.

Canada's anthem holds the words "as waiting for the better day"

We each have a crucial role in that better day. It is for us to stand up and fight injustice against life injustice done on our watch.

The love of Christ constrains us. His love that is abused in the destruction of the unborn's body.

The Holy Spirit mobilizes us to defend our shared humanity with our unborn friends. Keep carrying on! Peace of Christ
